Welcome to Roleplay

Our newsletter Roleplay was introduced and designed by a local parent 17 years ago. The aim was to provide local families with information to support children in the early years.

In our recent Listening and Learning consultation, many parents told us how much they value Roleplay and we hope this edition continues to make a positive difference.

September is always a busy time for us. We've enjoyed our graduation events and said goodbye to children starting 'big school', and we welcome children and families beginning their journey with us. We wish you all a happy and successful start.

Feedback or ideas for future articles are very welcome, email info@tlpcc.org.uk or talk to a member of our team.

Celebrating the contributions of James Wragg

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to James Wragg, who recently concluded his 11-year tenure as a trustee.

James is a local parent and joined our board when his children attended The Lloyd Park Centre. His commitment, knowledge, and thoughtful contributions have positively impacted our charity, and consistently served the best interests of children and families in Waltham Forest.

As James steps down from his trustee role, we celebrate his contribution and wish him continued success in all his endeavours.

Thank You James!

Listening & Learning

Local families have been sharing their experiences to help us enhance the support and services we offer. While many parents appreciate the community and the support they receive, they have identified some gaps in local services. Key insights include:

- Families want more opportunities for children to play, make friends, and learn about child development.
- Parents believe that services for children should be delivered by professionals knowledgeable in child development, who can also offer parental support when needed.
- There is a significant concern about support for SEND (Special Educational Needs and Disabilities) children. One suggestion was to have 'SEND representatives' available to assist parents and help navigate local services.
- Families have requested better services for deaf people.
- Access to essential services like housing, dentists, health visitors, and speech therapists is crucial, but there are concerns about waiting times and the need to travel across the borough.
- Some families face challenges due to language barriers and a lack of awareness about available services.

We are committed to using this valuable feedback to improve services and develop new projects. If you would like to share your experiences and ideas, please participate in our Listening and Learning survey here: www.tlpc.org.uk/listening-learning.

Thank you for helping us build a stronger, more supportive community!

Studio Verve

At The Lloyd Park Children's Charity our commitment to enhancing services for children and families is unwavering as we take proactive measures today to ensure a brighter tomorrow.

We would like to give special thanks to Vivian and the Studio Verve team for helping us to explore exciting new projects that promise to elevate our services.

Vivian's dedication as a member of our trustee board, along with her desire to bring great design to our community spaces, is deeply valued by our whole team. In the coming months we'll share how we intend to enhance our current facilities to meet the needs of both current and future generations. Watch this space!

Why not look at Studio Verve's website and discover more of what they do at www.studioverve.co.uk

Possible Lines of Direction

The Early Years Teams have been using the Pen Green model 'Possible Lines of Direction' (PLOD). In partnership with parents and children we carefully consider children's interests and needs. This helps us to recognise each child's unique experiences and support and extend their learning.

Debbie Arthy (Deputy Manager at The Higham Hill Centre) says "PLODS are really making a difference!"

"Feedback from both parents and team members has been very positive. They report that it is a very clear way of understanding children's interests. It promotes learning, both at home and in the nursery environment. Children also enjoy contributing to their PLODS. This is a child centred approach that helps children achieve their learning outcomes more effectively, due to a deeper level of understanding and engagement".

Sustaining our Planet, Sustaining our Community

Hello, I'm Johanna, a local parent and trustee of the Lloyd Park Children's Charity, and I also chair the Environmental Sustainability Sub-group.

I joined the trustee board because of the ground-breaking work our charity is doing to creating brighter futures for children in Waltham Forest. We are learning more on a daily basis about how our own health, and that of our communities is connected to that of the environment and our planet, and we realised we couldn't think about creating brighter futures for children in our community without thinking about environmental sustainability. So, we have made Sustaining our Planet, Sustaining our Community one of the charity's priorities.

Thanks to funding from The City Bridge Foundation's Greening the Third Sector program, we recently completed an Eco-Audit. This audit, led by award-winning environmentalist Donnachadh McCarthy from 3 Acorns, involved site visits, meetings with staff and trustees, and focused on key areas such as banking, waste management, food and milk, energy usage, green spaces, environmental education, and events. Based on the audit recommendations, our Sustainability Sub-Group has developed an action plan and is overseeing our journey toward achieving net-zero impact.

I'd love more parents and community members to get involved and support us. Whether you work or volunteer in a related field or simply care about how we can create a greener and brighter future for our community. We hold approximately six online meetings per year. If you're interested and would like to learn more, please email us at info@tlpcc.org.uk

Growing Strong: The Power of Plant-Based Nutrition for Children

Our charity is dedicated to building brighter futures for children and families, and we've been focusing on nutrition for growth and well-being. We promote diets rich in plants at The Lloyd Park Children's Charity, as they offer vital nutrients, support heart health, and aid digestion, while also being eco-friendly.

Here are quick tips: Serve colourful fruit and veggie plates, blend greens into smoothies, snack on veggies with dips, choose beans and whole grains for protein and fibre, and cook with your children. Our menus feature plant-based meals like vibrant salads and lentil stews, guided by Eat Well principles for healthy children. Try making a vegetable chili at home-it's a plant-powered favourite!

Cloth Nappies

The Lloyd Park Children's Charity is teaming up with Waltham Forest Cloth Nappy Library, WEN (Women's Environmental Network) and Nappy Ever After. At our nursery, children will be offered the option to use cloth nappies as part of a pilot program. Here's why it matters:

- Cloth nappies create less waste than disposable ones (which add up to a whopping 40 million tons annually!).
- Disposable nappies contribute to plastic pollution and greenhouse gases in landfills and recycling them is tough.
- Cloth nappies may cost more upfront, but they save money in the long run because they're reusable.
- Some disposable nappies have harmful chemicals. Cloth nappies, when cleaned properly, are safer.

By encouraging the use of cloth nappies, we aim to help families save money while also making a positive impact on the environment.

Vegetable Chili Recipe

Ingredients:

1 medium onion
 1 large carrot
 1 large courgette
 1 bell pepper
 1 large stick of celery
 1 garlic clove
 Half a red chili (or as much as you like!)
 1 tbsp smoked paprika
 1 tbsp ground cumin
 1 tsp ground coriander
 500ml jar or carton of passata
 1 tbsp tomato puree
 1 vegan beef stock cube
 Tin of kidney beans
 Small tin of sweetcorn
 Fresh coriander
 Pepper to taste

Method: Gently fry the chopped onion until starting to soften, add the chopped, carrots, courgettes, peppers and celery and continue to fry gently until starting to turn golden, stirring occasionally. Add the chopped garlic and chili and fry for 30 seconds before adding the paprika, cumin and coriander (you can add a splash of water to stop the spices from sticking to the pan). Cook for a further 2 minutes stirring constantly.

Grow Well

Wellbeing Tips - Breathing Better

Babies breathe through their noses right after birth. No one teaches them; it's just natural.

However, as we grow older, we often start breathing through our mouths due to colds, allergies, or stress. Many adults lose the habit of nose breathing, which can feel strange or uncomfortable.

Nose breathing is healthy and comes with many benefits. It filters out particles, increases oxygen intake, eases allergies, boosts the immune system, and can even reduce snoring and strengthen neck and facial muscles.

It's simple, cost-free, and practicing for a few minutes each day can improve your health and mental well-being. Why don't you have a go?

Our Wonderful Volunteers!

We want to express our heartfelt gratitude to all our volunteers. Their dedication and commitment to supporting our work means a lot to us.

Volunteers play a crucial role in our organisation, and as a charity, we truly appreciate the impact they have on children and families.

Today, we would like to spotlight Chioma. She joined our team as a volunteer supporting the work of our Baby Bank. Chioma worked tirelessly to ensure that families received the support they needed, whilst completing administration and monitoring for this vital service. Recently, Chioma joined our team as a Business Administration Apprentice, and we are thrilled to have her on board.

Congratulations Chioma, and thank you for your years of support!

AI – What is it and how our Charity is using it?

Artificial Intelligence (AI) is like a smart helper for computers. It learns and thinks a bit like humans do.

AI does repetitive or uninteresting tasks so people can focus on important things. We've started using AI to search for suitable funding for our projects. This improves our productivity and helps our fundraisers to apply for more grants.

AI looks at lots of information quickly, we used AI recently to help us analyse feedback from families and identify key priorities and recommendations. This allows our team to focus their time on making improvements and developing our services.

Some parents have concerns about the impact of AI on their children. A recent study by Internet Matters found that a quarter of children already use AI tools for schoolwork, and four in ten engage with AI in various ways. While children view AI positively, parents worry about data privacy, security risks, and potential effects on jobs. Additionally, some parents fear that AI might negatively affect their child's ability to think independently.

In short, AI is exciting, but we need to use it wisely. Let's make sure it helps everyone! Here's a useful video from The Good Things Foundation: <https://youtu.be/GQ0p9rjmwqA>

What Is Poverty and How It Affects Us

Poverty means not having enough money for important things like food, a home, or medicine.

What does Poverty look like in Waltham Forest?

People in poverty struggle to pay for basic things, and worrying about bills and how to afford food. Families in poverty often suffer from poor health. New families might not have the essentials they need to care for their baby, like a cot, nappies and blankets.

Some families can't find affordable places to live and spend a lot on rent or live in over crowded homes. Parents may struggle with the cost of school uniforms and children miss opportunities because of the cost or the fear of hidden costs for local events and activities.

Why Talk About It? When we talk about poverty, we learn and can be more able to help each other. Let's break the silence and work together for a fairer world!

What help is available?

If you find yourself in need of support, please visit www.tlpc.org.uk/help-request We offer a range of support and we also know lots of other organisations that may be able to support you best!

Our visit to Parliament!

Our Inclusion Manager Allison Walker accompanied one of our parents Claire Bithell to Portcullis House at an All Party Parliamentary Group (APPG) to highlight the critical importance of early intervention in the context of SEND.

Early intervention needs can be highlighted and support provided as early as possible in a child's life. Early intervention is the key to enabling children to be the best they can be, to thrive and flourish from early years into adulthood. This was a great opportunity where Claire shared her experiences to help improve Early Intervention services.

What an interesting afternoon it was!
